LEADERSHIP COACHING APP

A recent Gallup study reveals that over 80% of workers don't trust leaders and are disengaged, costing firms millions in lost revenue and productivity. Only 22% of managers believe their organizations care about their wellbeing and development, and 55% are actively seeking new employment. Less than half believe they have the skills needed to deal with escalating workloads, stress, and trust issues.

Over 84% of employees expect employers to provide the training and education needed to keep up with changing skillsets in their industry, but less than 32% believe their firms provide adequate development.

"RemotelyMe's groundbreaking approach analyzes top performer soft skills and attributes and then matches them against current talent and candidates to ensure success."

Deloitte says high trust talent can drive 400% more performance and 79% more productivity. Gallup says higher engagement drives 20% more revenue. RemotelyMe's High Trust Accredited Professional (HITAP) development program is the only one that can increase trust and engagement with visual neuroscience and cognitive AI. Our 9-minute Career Quotient Indicator (CQI) evaluates and scores eight soft skills, trust factors, core values, and leadership abilities with 93% Cronbach's Alpha validity.

Your firm's top performer scores are combined with O*NET, SHRM, Harvard and other data to determine optimal scores for role accountability success. Low scores can be increased by using our personalized HITAP coaching app that includes visual neuroscience and NLP video courses. Roles and seats can be adjusted based on scores, and candidates can be accurately evaluated to ensure the right fit and role success.

You can't improve what you can't measure. RemotelyMe uniquely measures soft skills, trust, and leadership abilities.
